(Special to The Bee.)
LEXINGTON, Va., Sept. 19.—"Castle Hall," a military school which was to have opened today under the supervision of Col. Robert A. Burton formerly of Danville, was totally destroyed by fire between 5:30 and 6:30

The large roomy structure, mostly wood, at daylight was no more than smoldering ruins. It would cost $100,000 to replace the building which was owned by Washington and Lee University and which held fire insurance policies totalling $10,000. There were no casualties or personal injuries. The fire burned slowly and it gave ample time for the five students and the three faculty members and the teachers to escape. Nevertheless, they saved their effects, thanks to the timely assistance rendered by Washington and Lee university students who turned out and brought out as much of the moveable furniture as

The fire broke out in a wooden annex which was built years ago for the servants' quarters. The colored cook and her daughter were asleep in one of the rooms and it was in a small kitchen immediately adjoining them that the blaze found its incipency. The alarm was quickly given and those within the building hastily made their escape while the flames communicated to the rest of the structure. The fire was about half an hour before it was extinguished and when it did this the whole building became a mass of flame and it was not long before the roof fell in. The lucky few departed without hurt or loss of property, but the fire which had a good hold on the building by the time it arrived and while an energetic fight was made it was quickly seen that the fire was beyond control.

Bovard Case To Come Up Thursday

The trial of five men, indicted for malicious wounding in connection with the mysterious assault on M. L. Bovard, a Chatham Training School student, will come up in the Pennsylvania Circuit Court on Thursday morning. Bovard, a native of Pennsylvania, has been at home for the holidays but recently returned to resume his studies. It is for that reason that the case has not been brought on before.

The men indicted are Luke Boswell, A. Taylor, Jr., Dewey Boswell, Joe Johnson and Houston Duncan. Joe Boswell is a member of the State Bar and was in a lonely spot where he was fired upon, the bullet piercing his body. He was brought to Danville in what seemed to be a critical state. His robust physique, however, has made him a recovery which surprised the doctors who attended him.

The young student, it is believed, was the victim of revenge, for there is a feud between the two families, and that he had assisted the County officers in getting evidence against bootleggers. Only a few days before he was shot he had appeared in court and given evidence against a man who was convicted on the strength of it.

Ban Johnson Offers $1,000 Reward For Pop Bottle Hurler

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—B. B. Johnson, president of the American League today offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the person who injured Lawton Witt, New York American League outfielder, by throwing a pop bottle at the player in Saturday's game with St. Louis. An added reward of $550 is offered by the Browns and the St. Louis rooters' club for the offender also.

While the full teaching faculty was on hand only five boarding pupils had actually arrived. Fifteen more arrived during the course of the day only to find the college where they were to receive preparatory training smoldering ruins. The enrollment was to have begun today and classes tomorrow. Col. has not been well. He was almost paralyzed, Mrs. Burton said, when he was taken to the hospital at Danville. He suffered a heavy fall when the mess hall of the college and the residential quarters were destroyed a few hours after commencement in 1921. His second big fire came one day before the opening of his new school, and he was almost overcome for a success. Mrs. Burton suffered a few years ago and lost a great deal by it.

Dr. Henry Lewis Smith, of Washington and Lee, was one of the first to see the fire this morning and said it was seen that the building would be a total loss he offered his residence to Col. and Mrs. Burton. This afternoon Col. Burton is to hold a conference with the fire insurance com-

Expect Arrest In N. J. Murders

Officials Know Who Committed Crime and Where It Occurred.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 18.—(By The Associated Press).—Arrests tomorrow were promised tonight by the authorities of both Middlesex and Somerset counties in the double shooting Thursday night of the Rev. Edward Hall, late rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and Mrs. James Mills, wife of the rector of the church.

Such a high opinion of the activities of the Middlesex county prosecuting attorney's staff have clung to the belief that the double shooting occurred in the orchard in Somerset county where the bodies were found. For Mr. Beckman, of Somerset, asserted tonight that he knew the perpetrator of the crime and was certain that it did not occur in the Fossil retreat.

"I know who did it," Mr. Beckman said. "and we know where it was committed. It wasn't where the bodies were found. Neither was it in the home on the Hill. I am very sure that the case will be made clear tomorrow, I believe. That is all I can say." Ferdinand A. David, county detective of Middlesex, said that the "suspect" was a man whom he met in the morning and up to the time of the shooting had been closely checked. The arrest, he said, probably be determined just what will be done in the meantime the pupils will be taken care of, although Washington and Lee has such a large enrollment that they cannot be located there. An early survey of the local situation failed to reveal any building which might be used temporarily.

Col. Burton formed a stock company early in the Spring, the building being rented from the Washington and Lee University, transferred to the trustees of the university library and the grammarnasium. The building formerly was a summer hotel but it was not successful and it was acquired by the university. The first story was brick and the remainder of the building was wood.

News of Col. Burton's disastrous fire at Lexington was received this morning in long distance telephone messages that the fire was described as being complete. Only yesterday James Lyerly and Robert Burton, son of Col. and Mrs. Burton left here with Mrs. L. M. Wheeler to enter the college.

The message said that none of the students had been injured and that everyone in the college building had escaped. Mrs. Lyerly left this afternoon.

Who Gave Turkey Guns? Asks Elk

RED BANK, N. J., Sept. 19.—Abram I. Elkus, former Ambassador to Turkey, today raised the question of who is supplying the Turks with food, ammunition and supplies.

"Who has supplied the funds to finance this army, is a question," he said. "It has been intimated the Soviet government is supplying the army, but the Turks with funds, but a few months ago this same government was appealing to America to relieve her starving millions."

"Elkus charged that certain interests in Paris are involved."

"It would be a question for the league of nations to investigate," he said.

"America's interests in Turkey are almost wholly educational and philanthropic having founded and maintained hospitals and colleges throughout the empire."

"We have substantial business interests there in tobacco, mining and oil."

"Turkey broke diplomatic relations with the United States during the world war. I do not fear that any man but America will be molested by the Turks. The Turk has been known chiefly to wreak vengeance on of the case had convinced him that the double shooting was a "mad man's act."

(By the Associated Press.)

NEW BRUNSWICK, Sept. 18.—After three days' investigation of the murder of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Milk, authorities expressed confidence that today's developments would bring about a solution of the mystery. Arrests are expected. County officials declared that they knew who did the shooting and where it occurred.

Unsuccessful search among many stiffs of two counties, the local police and seven state police to establish definitely the scene of the shooting, was a sad and a sordid sight of the Reverend Edward Hall, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John, the evangelist and Mrs. Mills, wife of the sexton and a choir leader in the church.

Between the two bearing bullet wounds, were found side by side Saturday in an old orchard in Somerset County. Authorities have expressed the belief that the two had been shot elsewhere and the bodies brought to this place in an effort to draw closer the veil of mystery which is over the shooting. The discovery today, however, of four witnesses, residing in the vicinity of the field, who reported hearing screams and gunshots, has strengthened the belief that the two shootings occurred where the bodies were found.

Henry McCabe, a bridge tender, told the police that on Tuesday night he saw the bodies lying on the ground, and that he had been awakened by screams. He said that he called his wife and they hurried together until the screams grew louder and fainter.

Police Claim To Have Guilty One

Henry Waters, a neighbor if she had heard the screams. Mrs. Waters said she had not, but had been awakened by reports of four gun shots. Kaufman, a butcher, also told the police he heard gun shots. He said the first had been separated from the last three by a considerable interval.

Mrs. Mills was shot once between the eyes. The rector's body bore four wounds.

With this new testimony fixing to a certain extent the scene of the crime, attention was drawn to a vacant house which stands on a tract of land adjoining the orchard. This house has been known for some time as "the mystery house." It is said to be rented, it is fully furnished and yet is untenanted. All efforts to trace through the real estate agents those renting the house are said to have failed. A superficial examination is said to reveal that the house may have been occupied recently, though no one has been there for some time.

Detectives assigned to investigate certain remarks of William Stevens, brother of the rector's widow, learned, it was said, that "Willie was known as a character."

Stevens has admitted according to the police, that he remarked a few days before the shooting of his brother-in-law that "something big is going to happen at the house and if I see irritated don't pay any attention to me," Michael Regan, a fire captain said Stevens declared to him Saturday morning. Presumably an explanation of Regan's remark, Stevens replied "You'll find out soon enough."

It became known today that Mr. Hall acted in unofficial capacities as trustee of the fund treated it as such. The right Rev. Alben Knight, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New Jersey, aided by more than a score of clergymen, today conducted the funeral services for Mr. Hall, in the church where he served as rector. A vested choir assisted in the Episcopal service. There was no eulogy. The body was taken to New York for burial. Services will be held tomorrow for Mrs. Mills.

Wesley House Work Prospers

The Wesley Community House, re-named during the Summer and prepared for broader service has reopened for the Fall activities. The kindergarten classes having already been re-established with the club work and the evening classes to be resumed on October 1st. The residential staff members of which have been away for their Summer holidays, have returned and plans are being made to enlarge the scope of the settlement work, made possible through the support of Danville Methodism, and to carry out more nearly the ideals of the institution.

The resumption of kindergarten work a few days ago was under auspicious circumstances, the enrollment being the largest since the Wesley House undertook child training on a large scale. During the last season an average of fifty children attended these classes, and this year the attendance is expected to be considerably larger.

The building has been completely renovated during the Summer and has been enlarged by adding a large room on the ground floor while above it is a club room. The structure has been repainted and the facilities have been considerably improved. The building is being used for the kindergarten on the ground floor while above it is a club room. ### Southern Strike Comes To an End

The conference had been in session three hours when William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, as spokesman for the union chiefs, announced that a settlement had been reached. Henry W. Miller, vice president of the Southern lines, in charge of operations, exhibited a copy of the agreement bearing signatures of the union leaders and representatives of the Southern, remarking that he expected most of the striking workers to be back at work within a week.

The refusal of the shop leaders to sign last Saturday led to doubt in some quarters as to the outcome of today's meeting. It was understood that the decision in favor of settlement was influenced largely by President Johnston, who was said to have urged an amicable agreement in the interest of industrial peace.

E. R. Norris, St. Louis, vice president and general manager of the Mobile and Ohio Railway, acted as spokesman for the system in the negotiations.

SUGARFOOT KEEPS 'EM LAUGHING AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

That the popularity of Sugarfoot Gaffney as one of the foremost black-face comedians on the stage is not waning was demonstrated last night at the Majestic theatre when the large audience gave him such a hearty reception that it was necessary to halt the show for a few minutes.

The popular comedian opened a series of engagements at that playhouse last night with Reed's "Follies of Today Company." Gaffney is late of Neil O'Brien's minstrels and it was not disputed that he was the most popular member of the troupe.

His part in last night's performance was one which is characteristic of him as a portrayer of a typical colored man. His jokes and monologues brought spontaneous laughter and the singing and dancing numbers brought applause which compelled a return to the stage.

Besides Gaffney's part in the show there are also several other worthy features. The Lyric quartette were forced to respond to encores several times while other special numbers made a big hit. The program is interspersed with tuneful singing numbers and a chorus of dancing girls.

Gaffney's appearance here no doubt will draw large audiences the balance of the week and it may be said that the show justifies a good attendance. Changes of program will take place on the usual days, Tuesday and Saturday.

AL G. FIELD MINSTRELS
At the Majestic Theatre and Night, Friday, Sept. 22nd, Matinee and Night.

Long and widely famous for its clever dancers, the Al G. Field Minstrels this year is particularly resplendent in this phase of its peculiar art of entertainment. Drawing out of the chief elements of the modern stage entertainment, and without it musical comedy and the vaudeville stage would be in sorry state indeed. It is an interesting fact that the popular forms of stage dancing were largely originated by minstrelsy and a large number of the more noted dancers in other branches of the profession were trained and first knew fame in the old-time minstrel show. It is in minstrelsy that dancing is at its best and has its most favorable setting and background—that is the sort of dancing which is now so popular. This form had its inception in the dances of the darkies on the plantations of the South and in its various manifestations was transferred to the minstrel stage by the founders of the art, who observed and carefully copied the negro dances then virtually unknown save in the South, but very familiar and demanded in every part of the nation and the world.

The first jury trial was taken up early yesterday after a number of cases had been continued for various reasons. The case against J. V. Weatherman, justice of the peace of the Hollow, small Patrick county community resulted in his acquittal. Weatherman was indicted for violating the war risk insurance act in that he accepted more than $5 for executing claim papers for the going family of Patrick, an allowance being due them for a casualty growing out of the war. Magistrate Weatherman is said to have accepted the sum of $100 from an uncle of the young man for his services.

MANY WEDDINGS DURING FALL

Autumn marriages are unusually numerous in Danville, according to present prospects. Among the number just announced for the ensuing two months being the following among the younger social set:
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Randolph Perkins announce the engagement of their second daughter, Miss Louise Perkins, to Louis E. Dean, of Charlotte, N. C., the wedding being scheduled for the late autumn. The prospective bride is much admired and widely esteemed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Noel, announce the engagement of their daughter, Seashole, to C. H. Marvin, of Urbana, Ohio, the wedding being scheduled for a late November date. The bride-elect is one of several beautiful daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Noel and her vivacity and social charm have made her a favorite socially.

Announcement has also been made in a very happy manner of the engagement of Miss Ethel Rowe, an admired and popular member of the younger set, to Gordon Bass, of this city, the marriage being set for October 28.

Several other engagements are known to friends, but have not yet been formally announced.

CHATHAM NEWS

CHATHAM, Sept. 16.—What perhaps was the largest Republican mass meeting ever held in Pittsylvania county took place here on Friday, Sept. 15. It was an enthusiastic gathering in which three hundred or more took part, all sections of the county being represented. J. S. Adams, cashier of the Grange bank, who is favorably mentioned as a candidate for congress from the Fifth district was overwhelmingly re-elected county chairman. B. H. Powell was the opposing nominee but the vote for him was only negligible. H. N. Lumpkin was elected temporary chairman and J. H. Moon secretary. The chairman appointed a committee of three, J. S. Adams, W. D. Parker and R. J. Lumpkin, who placed in nomination the following delegates and alternates for district and state conventions convening at Rocky Mount and Roanoke respectively:
Delegates, S. W. Jones, M. F. Sammons, L. J. Dyer, J. S. Adams, C. W. Bolling, J. E. Adkins, Roy Cooke, G. C. Giles, W. F. Davis, R. J. Lumpkin, Dink Worley and P. B. Rorer; alternates, W. C. Cobb, J. B. Yeatts, B. W. Ashworth, G. D. Davis, Wm. Harbour, J. J. Minter, J. K. Hutcherson, J. M. G. M. Minter, J. H. Moon, W. D. Parker and Dr. S. A. Reynolds.

The north end Rook club was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. T. Canada on Friday night. Several tables were filled and the game one of much pleasure from start to finish. Mrs. L. B. Whitehead won the highest number of scores. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. W. K. Payne, of Drakes Branch, is guest of her sister, Mrs. W. T. Canada.

Mrs. W. E. Dalton for several days guest of Mrs. G. E. Thompson, left for Danville on Friday, going from there to her home in Winston.

The formal opening of the Chatham Training School was on Friday night with exercises very befitting the opening which promises to be one of the best years in the life of the school. The enrollment is large and the faculty the largest ever had with Colonel Camden at the head and under his splendid supervision, the school has annually grown with the enrollment increasing each year. Last year the new building was added and from present indications, not many years will elapse before another building will be needed.

The Chatham Episcopal Institute will during the coming week open for the ensuing session.

Mrs. J. L. Neblett, of Monroe, is guest of her sister, Miss Mary Johnson.

The first Fall months will see many new types of vells. The loose-flowing bordered types with the border in heavy lace effect will be among the smartest. Browns in a vast range of shades are finding the highest favor among fashionable women.

The woman who rushed the season with a new hat will do well to purchase one with a wide brim, as they are considered ner and smarter than the turbans and small shapes at present. She will find that the smaller hat will be necessary in the windy months, later on.

MRS. J. H. GRIGGS DIED YESTERDAY IN RICHMOND, VA.

Profound and widespread sorrow will be caused in this city and in other sections of the State by the death of Mrs. J. H. Griggs, which occurred at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Luke's hospital, Richmond, Va.

While it was known that Mrs. Griggs had recently undergone a serious surgical operation there last week, all the information from her bedside had encouraged her husband and friends to believe that the operation had been successful and that her recovery and return to her home in this city was only a matter of a few more days requisite for recovery from the effects of her surgical ordeal and the recuperation of her strength. Unexpectedly, however, her condition yesterday afternoon took a sudden and alarming turn and death quickly ensued.

Mrs. Griggs was before her marriage to J. Henry Griggs, of this city, Miss Davis, of North Virginia, her parents subsequently removing to this city and dying here. She is survived by her sorrowing husband and her two brothers, a nephew and a niece, having resided in this city for many years and having been active in church and social life. Mrs. Griggs was widely known and her amiability, beautiful character and social graces had won many friends and she was greatly beloved by all who were privileged to know her well.

Declining health in recent months had limited her activities, and it was in hope and expectation of fully regaining her former health and strength that she went to Richmond and underwent an operation, which, as far as any one could determine, promised to accomplish the hoped-for result. Under the circumstances her unexpected death will prove a grievous shock to her bereaved ones.

Arrangements for the funeral will not been announced, but will be made known later, probably today.

—J. M. Lyster and Charles Burton left today for Castle Hill Academy at Lexington, Va.

—Mrs. G. P. Geoghegan, Jr., is at home after a visit to her parents in Rochester, N. Y.

—Mrs. J. M. Castleberry and daughter, Margaret, are visiting in Lynchburg and Roanoke.

Winston Merchant in the Greensboro Jail With Lots of Things to Answer.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 18.—S. L. Jenkins, merchant of Winston-Salem, was arrested and placed in the Greensboro city jail yesterday afternoon on a charge of immoral relations with Margaret Smith with whom it is said by police that:

He has been living off and on for two years in Cleveland, O., Roanoke, Va., Winston-Salem and Greensboro, and the latter city under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Webb; and for whom:

He arranged the hold-up party near Taylorsville last Thursday night during which the woman was taken by a group of men (engaged for the purpose by Mr. Jenkins) and disguised as members of the Ku Klux Klan and beaten by them because Mr. Jenkins was tired of her and wanted to get rid of her; and for whom:

He tried to arrange another whipping party in Winston-Salem Sunday night and asked members of the Ku Klux Klan to do the work for him. Mr. Jenkins is 45 years old is married, and has four children. He conducts a general store in Winston-Salem under his own name. Bond in the sum of $5,000 was required of him and at a late hour last night he had not arranged it. Mr. Jenkins was arrested in Winston-Salem about 1 o'clock yesterday by the Winston-Salem police and was brought to Greensboro by members of the local force, who had gone to Winston-Salem to effect his arrest. Chief of Police G. P. Crutcher sent for Rev. and Mrs. H. O. Nash, with whom it is charged that Jenkins and Margaret Smith have been living for the past three weeks under the names to the police, the man was positively identified by Mrs. Nash, the man who came to her home under the name of Mr. Webb. Mr. Nash the police said, could not be certain of his identity. Mr. Nash had previously stated that he knew him. To a reporter for the Daily News Mr. Nash said later that neither he nor Mrs. Nash had any statement to make.

The woman in the case, Margaret Smith, after telling the police that she had been with Jenkins, was not arrested. She was at the police station yesterday afternoon and left with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gold, of Tillery, a representative of the Ku Klux Klan, who has been working for the charge on the organization, said she would be cared for there by friends.

The charge on which Jenkins is arrested deals only with his alleged living in Greensboro with Margaret Smith as man and wife under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Webb. Police officials said he would almost certainly be prosecuted also on additional charges relating to the Taylorsville hold-up and probably under the Mann act for his alleged relations with the woman in other States.

Jenkins seen in the city jail, denied that he had used the name of Webb. He said that he had been with Smith, but he said there was something familiar about her face, denied that he had been to see her or any other woman in Greensboro, denied that he had been to Taylorsville Thursday night, denied that he had any connection with the affair.

"Thursday night I was in Allegheny county on private business," he said. "I saw there my brother-in-law, Dan Jones, who lives about 12 miles from Greensboro, and had supper with him. Some time after supper I started home to Winston-Salem. I was on the road nearly all night and reached Winston-Salem at 6 o'clock Friday morning." The police, however, asserted vigorously that Jenkins is the man. They regard the mystery of the Taylorsville hold-up as now unquestionably solved and they say that the Ku Klux Klan had nothing to do with it.

New Class Rates Disturb Levels

(By The Associated Press.) ATLANTA, Sept. 18.—Application of shippers for a proposed increase in rates for cotton and other commodities has caused a disturbance in the cotton market. A slight reduction by South Carolina and would about preserve the present levels in Alabama, Harry T. Moore, traffic manager of the Atlantic Freight Bureau, declared in testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission investigating Southern class rates here today.

Two Men and Girl Held for Auto Theft

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 18.—Suspected of stealing an automobile found in their possession two young men giving their names as Robert E. Dillon and Walter F. Thomas, hailing from Wilkesboro, N. C., and Hope Mills, N. C., respectively, were being held here today together with a good looking young woman giving the name of Kate Ruthford, for a hearing in Police Court tomorrow.

Thomas was identified after his arrest as Harry Hall, an escaped convict. He was sentenced at Greensboro two years for theft of an automobile and escaped from the road force recently, despite the fact that he has only one leg. In his pockets were found two automobile master keys. The woman, it developed, had obtained a license for the car in Petersburg. She and Dillon were located in a rooming house. Search of Dillon's pockets disclosed $500 in greenbacks. This was held as "evidence" at the police station. Suspicion of the police was first aroused when Hall tried to get a license here for a car without being able to show that he was in possession of such a machine.

New Voters Face The Literacy Test

ALBANY, Sept. 18.—Persons who have attained twenty-one years of age, or have become naturalized since last election, must pass the literacy test before they are permitted to vote in New York this fall. The law also applies to former citizens of other States who will vote in New York for the first time.

The State Commissioner of Education Graves announces that local school authorities are empowered to issue certificates of literacy to persons presenting evidence of having completed the work of the fifth grade in public schools or its equivalent. As an alternative they may pass a simple test in reading and writing prepared by the State Department of Education.

Commissioner Graves has advised School Superintendents to designate two or more days during the week of Oct. 2 for issuing literacy certificates. Literacy tests will also be conducted by Boards of Registration throughout the State on registration days, which in New York City are Oct. 9, 11, 13, 15 and 17 and in all other places of 5,000 or more persons on Oct. 13, 14, 20 and 21. Boards have the right to call upon a new voter to prove his ability to read and write English from any of 100 constitutional extracts. Persons failing to pass the tests given by the State Department of Education will not be barred from appearing before the Registration Board and taking its test.

In communities with populations of less than 5,000 the literacy test may be required on Election Day before the new voter is allowed to cast his ballot. Any voter failing to pass the test may appeal to the County Judge or Supreme Court for final decision.

Pittsylvania's Flag Preserved

The William Pell Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution have recently placed a large glass cabinet in the court room at Chatham to preserve and display the Pittsylvania county flag. This flag is more than one hundred years old, and should be of interest to the whole county.

It is hoped that this cabinet may be the beginning of a county museum and any one willing to either lend or donate papers and articles for this purpose is requested to confer with Mrs. Irvine Overby Chis or with Mrs. Jas. S. Jones Regent.

Slayer Escapes; Weds; Retaken

Ten years ago a 16-year-old boy in Chicago murdered his father and went to Joliet penitentiary to serve a 25-year term. Three years ago he escaped. A few days ago Chicago police arrested Joseph Vacek, a former patrolman, having recognized in him the escaped convict. Since his escape Vacek (inset) has married and is the father of the five-weeks old baby shown with Mrs. Vacek.

Detectives Held As Rum Plotters At Atlantic City

Federal Agents Round Up Ten and Say Warrants Are Out for Fifteen Others in Ring—Stranded Chinese Cook Tells Tale to Consul.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 18.—Chief of the Atlantic County Detectives Benjamin Nussbaum, Samuel Barab, also a member of the staff of Prosecutor Edmund C. Caskill, and eight other more or less prominent residents of Atlantic City, were arrested this afternoon on Federal warrants charging them with conspiracy to smuggle liquor into the county.

In addition to the two County detectives, those arrested are William Verga, fish merchant; Abraham S. Trethfield, druggist; Bret Allen, hotel man; Walter Pierce, employee of a bath house; Eugene Broome, Jacob and Neil Driscoll and John N. Lailey. Dailey is said by the Federal agents not to have been a participant in the smuggling knowledge of it.

The defendants were taken before United States Commissioner Isard and held under heavy bail for further hearing. In each case bail was furnished.

Fifteen others will be taken into custody either tomorrow or Tuesday, according to Assistant United States District Attorney Frederick Pearce. Warrants are in the hands of deputy marshals.

The round-up is the result of the disclosures said to have been made by Capt. George Jeffries of the auxiliary schooner Pittsburgh, seized as a rum-runner several days ago. The Federal customs inspectors have been working with Prohibition officers in an effort to put an end to smuggling operations along the Jersey coast, which have developed on a large scale.

The arrests to-day caused some uneasiness among hotel, restaurant and cafe owners. Nussbaum, chief of county detectives, and his partner, Barab, have been active in enforcing the State Prohibition Act. As a result 125 indictments have been handed down by the Atlantic County Grand Jury, including nearly every Board-walk cafe and resort saloon.

The seizure of the schooner Pittsburgh was brought about by a tip from Nassau to the Federal agents. According to them, Nick Sooy, cook of the schooner, was left shore after the craft sailed with her cargo of liquor and sought aid from the United States Consul. In explaining his plight he told of the cargo which those on the schooner hoped to land on the Jersey coast. The Consul thereupon flashed the word to the officials at Trenton. When they arrived, however, all of the cargo had been landed. A search is now under way for the liquor.

Think Harding Has Had Enough

Republican Leaders Say That President Will Not Aspire Again.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18.—The most significant indication of the trend of things political is the bobbing up of candidates for the Republican nomination for President two years hence. It is true the announcement of these candidacies is always coupled with the qualification: "If Mr. Harding isn't a candidate," but it has been two generations since there was even a thought that the White House incumbent might not want to come back.

The theory, encouraged by every President, is that a failure to give the President a renomination is a confession of the failure of the Administration and the policies it represents.

Everywhere today is heard the question: Is Harding a one-term President? Everywhere somebody is whispering that somebody told somebody else that the President told Senator Blank that under no circumstances would he be willing to go through for an additional four years the anxieties, ingratiations, repression and nervous strain inseparable from a term in the White House. In all probability this story is as true of Harding as of almost any of his predecessors, for practically all of them have had their hours of discouragement and their disillusionment. But they do not quit the job.

Many Suck Honor. The woods are full of possible candidates: Hoover, Hughes and Weeks, of the Cabinet, are all mentioned. On the outside among the possibilities are: Governor Miller of New York, if he is selected; former Governor Lowden, of Illinois, who squandered himself out of the nomination two years ago; Beveridge, who is elected to lead the first charge for a Progressive demonstration of the national convention; Jimmie Johnson, who, but for a bad guess, would be President today; and Borah, who seems to be getting to the fore of the Progressive movement in the country.

The Cabinet candidates can make no active campaign; they must wait for the elimination of Harding. This will come, if it comes at all, by reason of the attacks of the Progressives. Much depends on the extent of the drubbing the Republican party is in for in November. If that is very bad—if for example, as is very likely, the House goes Democratic and the Borah group in the Senate is so strengthened by the accession of such insurgents as Beveridge, Brookhart and Frazier as to have the balance of power—the yell will be raised that the country is tired of the pussyfooting and inaction of the old order, shocked by the evidence of the power of the interests as shown in the tariff.

Father Has Prior Claim on Children

WILMINGTON, N. C., Sept. 18.—Judge W. A. Devin, in superior court here today, ruled that a father has a prior claim to the custody of his children over their grandmother, in refusing the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Mrs. Mary K. McNeil, of Greenville, S. C., to gain the custody of her two motherless grandchildren, sons of Charles R. Thomas, Jr., of Beaufort.

Judge Devin held that the father had been proven by the evidence to be a fit person to care for his children.

Pointers Take First Of Series From Durham 10-6

HIGH POINT, September 18.—The first game of the championship series between High Point and Durham to decide which team will win the pennant, was won by Herndon's aggregation this afternoon by the score of 10 to 6. The throng of fans which turned out to witness the opening battle was conservatively estimated at 4,000 persons.

The game was a slugfest for both sides, with the locals coming out on the big end of the score. Gooch sent McWhorter to the mound but the locals hit him in great fashion, knocking him from the mound in the first inning, after two men had been retired. He was replaced by Rodgers who was also ineffective. The same time it must also be said that Eldridge was not in good form but he managed to hold the visitors to fewer runs, enabling the locals to win. He allowed thirteen hits for a total of six runs. The Furniture Makers hit McWhorter safely six times before Rodgers went in and he too was hit for seven safeties.

The two teams will play again today and then go to Durham for a series of two games. Seven games are scheduled if this number be necessary.

The box score of today's game follows:

1923 WORLD SERIES WILL BEGIN OCT. 4

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The 1923 world series will begin in New York October 4, it was decided today at a meeting attended by representatives of both New York clubs in the offices of Commissioner K. M. Landis.

In the event of the Browns winning in the American League there will be two games in New York, one day devoted to travel and three games played in St. Louis. It was assumed that the Giants will win in the National League.

If the New York Yanks win, the first game of the series will be National League day, the Nationals having won the town, and the second, American League day at the Polo Grounds.

The first six games of a Yankee-Giant series will be played on consecutive days. If a seventh game is necessary there will be a one-day intermission to permit the preparation of tickets.

Yankees Win Over St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—New York won the final game of the season from the locals 3 to 2 and increased their lead over the Browns to one and one-half games. The game was a pitching battle between Davis and Bush, but the former caused a costly defeat by bad fielding. He was taken out in the ninth after the locals had held a lead of two to one on the league leaders.

George Sisler broke his string of hitting in consecutive games when he failed to get a hit today. He had previously hit safely in 41 consecutive games breaking the modern major league record made by Ty Cobb in 1911.

WOMAN, 83, HELD ON LIQUOR CHARGE

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 18.—Miss Adeline Ratley, 83 years old, a resident of the Cumberland Mill section of this county, faces trial at the next term of the United States District Court in Raleigh on a charge of violating the prohibition law. Sheriff's officers and prohibition agents found 137 gallons of wine on Miss Ratley's premises, according to their testimony before United States Commissioner J. W. Tomlinson. The case is set for trial on Monday at the District Court at Fayetteville, which session will be held on Monday.

McGavock Named G. O. P. Candidate

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 18.—J. Williamson McGavock, retired Confederate veteran of near Max Meadows, Wythe county, was nominated by acclamation to be the Republican standard bearer in the senatorial race at the November election, at the State Republican convention which convened today at 1 o'clock in the new city market auditorium.

Harry K. Wolkott, of Norfolk, was elected permanent chairman, and Charles A. Hammer, of Harrisonburg, was elected permanent secretary. Henry W. Anderson, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket in the last election, delivered the keynote speech of the convention.

A platform was introduced endorsing the achievements of the Republican party and commending the record of C. Easton Slomp, Republican congressman from the Fourth District. The Sixth District convention which met immediately before the state gathering nominated Frederick W. McWane, of Lynchburg, by acclamation as the party candidate for Congress from the Sixth District.

Mr. McWane is manager of the Lynchburg Foundry and will oppose Clifton A. Woodrum, who defeated Col. James P. Woods, incumbent, in the recent Democratic primary.

BUSINESS ON BOOM IN NEW ENGLAND STATES

(BY EDSON E. SMITH)
BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Business, as a whole, is showing a decided tendency toward improvement in New England and wages and commodity prices are indicating a tendency to advance. Skilled labor is scarce today in many lines. It is generally considered, however, that the cotton situation is a big factor in determining what the trend of general business will be. If the railroads can move enough coal to keep the industries of this section moving through the winter, business will be excellent, but it will be a tight squeeze, as reserve stocks are negligible. The coast cities are in a fairly comfortable position because of water connections with Virginia ports. There is no sign of a let-up in building construction and building materials are moving up in price and becoming scarce.

WILL HOLD ON PRESENT SUPPLY OF LABORERS

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—Several automobile firms and manufacturers of parts outside the Ford plants were considering shut-downs to take inventories today, but these probably will not go into effect as they will mean the loss of good laborers who are scarce. Men now employed will not be content to remain idle with many good jobs staring them in the face.

DO YOU WONDER, ASKS THIS LADY

"That I'm a Believer in Cardui!"
"Go So Weak She Had To Get To Bed—But Read Her Story"

Oswatimie, Kans.—Mrs. E. E. Keast, formerly of Illinois, residing here, says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while; and then some year or so ago I had a sick spell."

"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed."

"I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live."

"I tried medicines, and everything; had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up."

"I lay for three months, not able to do anything."

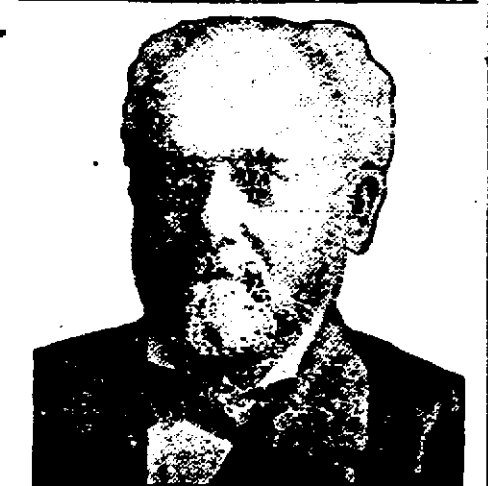

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day they came to me. I read the Ladies' Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui. They laughed and said I wouldn't take it. But I did. I began with a tablespoonful every two hours."

"I quit all other medicines and took it (Cardui) faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months."

"I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman."

"Do you wonder that I am a believer in Cardui? I certainly am. And I am sure there is no better tonic made for women than Cardui."

All druggists sell Cardui, for women.—adv.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity.

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in disease of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native medicinal plants. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow, if you take this Attested Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This Discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery in tablet or liquid. Send 10c for trial.—adv.

LEUT. FECHTLER KILLED WHEN HIS PLANE FALLS

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—Lieutenant Frank A. Fechtler, one of the most widely known aviators of the U. S. navy, was instantly killed at Selfridge Field, near Mount Clemens, this afternoon when the Spad Army biplane he was flying stalled 150 feet in the air, went into a tail spin and fell on the flying field.

Lieutenant Fechtler was to have piloted one of the navy planes in the Pulitzer Air Race here October 14, and came here a week ago to conduct flight practice. He was taking the air for the first time since his arrival from the U. S. S. Langley, where he was in charge of the ship's planes.

Aviators who were watching his ascent expressed the belief that he gained altitude too suddenly, causing his motor to stall. The dead flyer was a native of San Rafael, Calif., and was graduated from Annapolis in 1917. He was 27 years old.

—L. T. Hyatt, clerk of the United States Court and Marshall S. G. Profit, are attending the session here this week.

Danville May Get New Road

Highway to Lynchburg Is Proposed Under Robertson Act.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 18.—Preliminary steps looking to the financing by the cities and counties interested of a north and south highway to run through Lynchburg were taken at a meeting last night of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, a committee being appointed to lay the matter before Danville, which would also be on the route.

Other matters to occupy the attention of the body were the approval of plans submitted by Chief W. L. Saundridge of the fire department for the observance of fire prevention week, October 2-9, discussion of question of issuing an advertising booklet of the city, authorization of an appropriation to print a folder to be mailed in letters and adoption of a motion to refuse to sell advertising space in the market bulletin to other than Lynchburg firms.

The good roads discussion was begun when J. T. Noell, chairman of the good roads committee, read a letter secured from George P. Coleman, member of the highway commission, outlining the five possible roads that might be built to provide an outlet for Lynchburg, giving the estimated cost of each. Mr. Noell quoted Mr. Coleman as having said that if Lynchburg wishes to hasten the construction of roads in which it is especially interested funds may be lent by state without interest, under the provisions of the Robertson act.

President W. J. D. Bell pointed out that the estate will not be able this year or next to begin work on roads that will be of benefit to Lynchburg and that a start only could be made by the money being provided by cities and counties interested, the state later to repay the amount as provided by law. He said that the city should consolidate on some particular route and bend every effort to build that route as an outlet. He said the city is suffering from the fact that it cannot be reached with safety by automobile. The directors that he did not favor the building of a single road that would put Lynchburg in a cul de sac but that he wanted to see a north-south highway built. He said all his life he had heard plenty of talk about good roads and that so far it had been only talk. He said he did not believe the Natural Bridge road, which was first under discussion, would be of much benefit to Lynchburg. The matter should be considered, he thought, from the standpoint of the people who travel the road from north to south and the local benefit it would yield. Mr. Thomas said that the other route, from Lynchburg to Danville, could be built for about $1,500,000 and he believed that if Lynchburg would assume $1,000,000 of the obligation Danville would be willing to provide for the balance. This, he said, would mean that Lynchburg would have to pay the interest on that amount for a year or two, about $50,000, or less a year and that the benefit to be derived from such a sum would be incalculable.

Virginia's Poor Roads
O. B. Barker told of the opinion of other states have for Virginia because of her lack of good roads, quoting a man from Texas who drove his automobile all the way to Virginia, only to get stuck in the mud. F. L. Knight endorsed the opinions expressed by Mr. Thomas and gave other examples of the disrepute Virginia's roads have brought the state.

The suggested plan for building the road from Afton-Lynchburg-Danville is to form a road association, get the city to issue its bonds for the required amount and loan the state the sum, free of interest, to be repaid at a specified time.

In order to determine whether Danville would be willing to assume a share of the obligation, a committee of 10 was appointed to go to Danville next Saturday. If a meeting can be arranged at that time and conference with the chamber of commerce, bankers and business men. When this step is taken it is planned to approach each of the counties through which the road would pass as to their attitude and finally to lay before the Lynchburg city council a perfected plan for approval. On this committee are W. J. D. Bell, D. B. Ryland, C. Gilbert, A. F. Thomas, O. B. Barker, D. D. MacGregor, Allen Cucullu, T. T. Noell, F. L. Wilson and E. Owen. It was intimated that Mr. Bell would ask other interested citizens to accompany the party.

The proposed routes under discussion were Lynchburg to Danville, cost $125,000 to finish bad sections; Lynchburg to Afton, $600,000; Lynchburg to Natural Bridge, $300,000; Lynchburg to Concord, $400,000 and Lynchburg to Roanoke, cost not estimated.

Heiress Insane Dies Near Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 18.—Miss Marie Marshall, 67 years old, whose wealth is estimated at $2,000,000, died at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the Stephenson Cottage Sea Pines. She had been a patient at the Eastern States hospital at Williamsburg for 50 years and was under the care of a physician from the hospital during her illness.

Miss Marshall was declared mentally incompetent when she was 17 years old by the Virginia courts and this verdict was affirmed during succeeding litigation.

J. Frederick Kernochan, a justice of the New York supreme court, has been in charge of the estate of Miss Marshall as her committee. It is expected that her vast wealth will be divided among her nephew and nieces.

10 Eat 'Mushrooms,' Boy Dies, 9 Are Ill

ALBANY, Sept. 18.—Albert Sly, five years old, died today from eating poisonous toadstools mistaken for edible mushrooms. Eight others are ill from the same cause but are expected to recover, although Louis Sly, the dead boy's father is still in a serious condition.

Peter Kulczeski and Michael Czar-nol gathered the toadstools in a field near the city and invited friends to enjoy the feast. The hosts had often before gathered mushrooms and were adepts in their preparation.

Kulczeski and Czar-nol ate more than any of the others and were the first to become ill. When they complained of pains in the stomach guests called a physician, who applied a stomach pump and rushed the men to a hospital. The others were similarly treated, but Sly and his son were not attended for several hours.

Seek Injunction Against Auction Sale Of Tobacco

RALEIGH, Sept. 18.—Presence here tonight of Lawyer Levy, from the office of Aaron S. Sapio, high priest of co-operative marketing, fore-shadows tomorrow's suits and injunctions against Eastern North Carolina farmers, who are alleged to be breaking their contracts in selling tobacco on the auction market.

Not only will the proceedings embrace the penalizing of all farmers so much a pound for the weed sold by auction, but will seek to enjoin signers of the contract from further selling. How much of this has been done nobody knows, but it is said to be considerable. It is expected that the injunctions will be sought from Judge Frank Daniels.

—Miss Lena Hodnett, William Mc-lan, Mrs. Grace Motley and son, Wad-son, Jr., have returned from a month's trip to Petersburg, Beach, and Richmond.

Why Grow Old Before Your Time?

It isn't years alone that makes one old. Many folks are younger at 70 than others are at 50. A lame, bent back; stiff, achy joints, rheumatic pains, bad eyesight, and bladder irregularities are often due to kidney weakness and not advancing years. Don't let weak kidneys age you. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Don's have made life more comfortable for thousands of elderly folks. Ask your neighbor.

HERE'S A DANVILLE CASE
Mrs. H. C. Amos, 748 Holbrook Ave., says: "My kidneys became weak and my back ached. It was hard for me to bend, my back was so painful and sore. I was annoyed by the irregular action of my kidneys and headaches were frequent. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I bought at the West End Pharmacy relieved me in a short time."

CLOSING GRAIN LETTER

(Thomson &amp; McKinnon.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Wheat: Fear of the unknown in the way of possible broadening of complications over southern European situation was the active motive in wheat today. It prompted a very urgent demand from previous selling, but does not seem to have created any extraordinary new export business. There was fair amount of Manitoba worked on direct cable but no estimate of quantity has been published. The demand for hard winter wheat was practically nothing. Liverpool strength attributed to small world's shipments, but the Winnipeg market has led in firmness. It is impossible to judge fairly of the attitude of the foreign buyer for the reason that the advance has been too rapid for any large amount of business, even if importing countries were more willing buyers. Flour demand in leading spring wheat markets has been slow because of the margin of the upward movement of prices. Because foodstuffs have always ruled higher in time of war, it is probably well to await further developments before becoming convinced that present trouble is of minor importance only. It seems to be the general impression that foreign countries cannot finance a prolonged war. The market has been lifted out of its routine and apathy, therefore, may be accept the entire North American surplus in the course of time. The present does not seem an opportune one for prolonged advances in view of the expected heavy movement of the Canadian surplus. As the war situation now stands, we believe it has had due effect on prices. The excitement in wheat was reflected in both corn and oats but the demand seems to come mostly from previous sellers. Instead of in the way of an investment demand. Cash oats at southern Illinois points sold Saturday at 25¢ cent, with offerings quite limited. This price is such as to discredit those who claim there is an artificial position in the September delivery in this market.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER

(Thomson &amp; McKinnon.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—From time to time, when occasion required, we have directed your attention to the markets' technical position. More recently we have again called your attention to this subject. We have pointed out that the long interest is very substantial in size; that the loans are not far below the previous top. This makes a poor technical position. Therefore, such news as we have had for several days from Europe, the very delicate diplomatic situation, the possibilities of another general conflict, must of necessity, have resulted in just such action as was experienced in the stock market Saturday and today. Today, particularly the selling, was on a liberal scale, accompanied by professional selling.

Substantial recessions followed as a matter of course, so much for what occurred.

But what about tomorrow? There is just as much doubt at this moment as there was at the close of last week. Who can say what may next develop in the conflicting situation in Europe with its multitude of problems and innumerable angles.

The main thing now is to fix the thought firmly in mind that in the present state of the world's financial situation war is more bearish than it ever was before, and peace more bullish. Which will it be? One opinion is as good as another. Even diplomats must guess. If affairs are adjusted, if a big conflict is to follow, then the market is in a position to respond readily because technically it has been improved to a great extent.

Total sales 1,350,000 shares.

ENGINEERS BANK TO BUILD SCYSCRAPER

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers announces the completion of plans for the erection of a 21-story banking building here, to contain the main office of the largest co-operative banking institution in the country.

At the same time, word comes from Washington that U. S. Comptroller of Currency D. R. Cressinger has authorized the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Co-operative National Bank to establish bank offices in the heart of the city, as well as in the popular East End, near the railroad shops and manufacturing industries.

The Engineers Brotherhood recently purchased the Union Commerce National Bank building, on Euclid Avenue, in the heart of the city, and it was reported that this building would become the permanent home of the big co-operative bank.

Financial and realty developments just made public show that the 16-story banking building was acquired merely to house one of several important offices of the bank.

Officials of the bank have further disclosed plans for the erection of a new building in the Nottingham district to house the office in that section.

The new 21-story main building, in which will be started shortly, will occupy the corner across the street from the 14-story building built by the brotherhood in 1908 as its national headquarters.

During its erection the main office of the bank will be moved to the 16-story structure just acquired.

The most modern and efficient banking equipment will be installed in the new building, giving the Brotherhood Co-operative National Bank one of the finest banking premises in the city.

The action of the Brotherhood Co-operative National Bank in expanding its business and holding at the present time, is due to the work of its officers, who include Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the brotherhood, as president, W. E. B. Prenter, its secretary and treasurer, as vice-president and cashier, and Walter F. Mc Aleb, vice president and manager.

Starting with only $658,000 in paid-up stock less than two years ago, the brotherhood bank gained almost a million dollars a month during the first year and has already nearly doubled its resources in the second year.

Assets of the bank at the close of business on August 29, 1922, were $1,547,492.35.

Grain Report

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Soaring prices and big buying in the wheat market today accompanied word of Giant war moves on the part of Great Britain. The value of wheat rose nearly six cents a bushel but heavy selling to realize profits led to a material setback before the day ended.

Closing quotations were unsettled, at a net gain of 2 1-2 cents to 3-8, with December 105 5-8 to 105 3-4 and May 109 7-8 to 110.

Corn finished quarter to 5-8 up, and Oats up 2-8 a 1-2 to 3-4 cents. In provisions, the outcome varied from 2 cents decline to a rise of five cents.

Cotton Report

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The unsettling effect of the Near Eastern situation was reflected by considerable liquidation in the cotton market during today's early trading. At the settling off to 21 90 for December or 228 points below the high price of last week, however, the market steadied on trade buying and covering. December rallied to 21 23 and closed at 21 28 with the general market closing steady at a net decline of 7 to 25 points.

The market opened easy at a decline of 18 to 25 points because of relatively easier cables from Liverpool and nervousness over European affairs. There was heavy liquidation, also orders were uncovered as prices worked a scale down with the demand and in lower Trade interests bought on increasing as prices approached the 21 cent level for December but moderate mid-day rallies met renewed liquidation and most months made new low ground for the day during the early afternoon. The buying, however, continued and the market firmed up during the afternoon on covering by early sellers who appeared to be impressed by rumors that a good many of the contracts liquidated since the close of last Friday had been bought for trade acceptance. October rallied from 20 30 to 21 15 and January from 20 87 to 21 20 or about 26 to 35 points from the lowest and the close was within a few points of the best. Private cables reported a poor trade demand in Liverpool and said that buying otherwise was restricted by unsatisfactory political centers supposedly referring to the Near East which is one of Manchester's outlets for cotton goods. Except for the unsettled state of affairs in Europe, local comment on the day's news seemed generally favorable to prices owing to unsettled weather conditions along the Gulf coast and reports of continued good demand for cotton goods.

KILLING THE WHOLE POLICE DEPARTMENT

Shooting them down, man by man, until not one remained. That was the elaborate program laid out and being followed by a gang of mid-western criminals as the result of one man's perverted idea of vengeance.

The plan was succeeding. Four patrolmen had been mysteriously shot in the back and killed as they walked their beats and the whole town was in fear when

COP VERSUS CROOK!

(By RICHARD E. ENRIGHT)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Crookdom will soon encounter a new and terrifying force through the organization of the World Police Conference.

War against crime has always been conducted in a fashion—small groups of officers confined to the stationary positions of their own communities fighting outlaw bands who could dart into any city attack life and property and flee.

Suppressing the scourge of criminality is no longer a city, state, or national affair. It is international. Devices of speedy communication and transportation enable crooks to jump from nation to nation as easily as previous generations could move from town to town.

International police organization will prove more than a checkmate, it is even conceivable that the World Police conference will construct so tight a net that no professional criminal can long escape its meshes.

Possibilities of world-wide police co-operation have already been demonstrated. America, England, Belgium, France, Spain, Argentina, and many other countries have long exchanged information and police courtesies. New York's efficient police training school has been placed at the disposal of departments in other cities. A notable example of international co-operation was recently afforded by Denmark.

The Danes came to the first meeting of the World Police Conference with what they term the Long Distance identification system on which they have been working eight years. They offered it free for what it was worth. If this system proved successful after exhaustive tests, every member of the conference will have complete records and fingerprints of all known crooks immediately available by wire or wireless through a central bureau which we plan to establish.

And just as the Danes have offered their contribution to the general good, so will other intentions and discoveries be made useful to all members.

COMMISSIONER ENRIGHT

The cop on your corner is no longer working as a unit in an organization no larger than your own local police force. Without losing any advantage of local autonomy, practically every police department in the United States has already become a member of the conference. Automatically, nearly every patrolman has behind him the power of this international body.

The foreign organizations will join as soon as their delegates to the first conference can report back home. I firmly believe the creation of the World Police Conference is the greatest forward step in crime suppression that has ever been taken.

Proof Is Demanded Of Bootleg Horrors

Haynes Called on to Give the Source of "Cadaver Vat" Story from Minnesota—Minn. University Involved.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Members of Congress are taking an interest in the recital of bootleg horrors emanating from the publicity department of national prohibition enforcement headquarters.

Commissioner R. A. Haynes is being asked to "prove up" on some of them particularly the latest to the effect that alcohol was being drained out of the cadaver vats in the various universities of the country, with the added detail that "the reports state that the greater bulk of the alcohol has been redistilled in Minnesota before it was distributed, and, according to analysis made, containing large quantities of wood alcohol."

Another version of the report had it that this alcohol in which human bodies had been preserved for dissection by the medical students came from the University of Minnesota.

Still other details of this horrifying source of alcohol, which is supposed to be in process of distribution among users of bootleg liquor, were to the effect that 450 gallons had been shipped by way of Des Moines to Omaha, with what results only the vital statistics of that city could probably determine.

Members of Congress who have been reading the reports of Commissioner Haynes' startling discoveries with ever increasing horror have been waiting to hear that arrests have been made and users of these horrible concoctions punished in the interest of public health, out without results. According to them, the Commissioner's office has been content to describe further details of the horrors of bootleg liquor, apparently assuming that the thousands of users of the illegal beverage are being justly punished and that others may be deterred by the recital of the horrors discovered.

Call On Haynes To Show Hand. If the reports are true, members claim, then wholesale prosecution should be instituted. If they are not true, they insist, then Commissioner Haynes is prostituting his important office by the circulation of false propaganda. They will eventually call into question any statement the Commissioner's office may make.

Inquiry at the office of Commissioner Haynes failed to discover evidence or knowledge as to the prevalence of using alcohol in which human bodies had been preserved. Inquiry among the members of the Minnesota delegation developed the fact that none of them had ever heard of the use of cadaver vat alcohol for bootleg beverages. Neither the office of Senator Nelson nor Senator Ellogg had heard of such a thing.

Representative Recent Scandal. Representative Volstead of Minnesota, author of the well-known Volstead law, entered a positive disclaimer of any rumor of the University of Minnesota being used for the purpose of bootlegging.

At the office of Commissioner Haynes only general statements concerning the origin of the story could be obtained. The reports concerning "cadavers" was supposed to have come from Glenn A. Brunson, a prohibition director for Iowa, with headquarters at Des Moines. A wire was sent to Mr. Brunson for facts. The only information corroborating the story was a newspaper clipping from an Iowa newspaper, in which it was said "the discovery of cadaver alcohol supplies had been made, and that it was 'reported' that it had been sent to Omaha. It concluded with the statement that prohibition officers would make a thorough investigation of all the colleges and universities of the country."

Score "Frightfulness" Campaign. Members of Congress who have been aroused by these revolting stories of poisoned liquors insist that if the reports are merely propaganda, the tax-payers' money which Commissioner Haynes is using could be utilized to better advantage than in the dissemination of "frightfulness" propaganda. If the reports are true, they claim, then there should be laws to protect the public in the interest of the nation's health.

Commissioner Haynes is to be asked for evidence of his propaganda reports with the view of determining Congressional action.

Quest of Lost Dog Loses Boy, 9, Here

Bull Pup, Fleeing Fleas, Leads New Master From Newark to New York Police Station.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—"Why Young Men Leave Home" was the theme of a tale of travel, failure and hunger by Samuel Hollender of Newark to the Sitting Room Association of the West Forty-seventh Street Police Station last night.

Sam told in simple English how he left Newark last Friday night in search of a bull pup named "Bob." Sam said the pup had fleas, but he loved him in spite of them. And in searching for "Bob," Sam had had nothing to eat since Friday except a "hot dog" and a few apples. He earned private fortune of 21 cents, earned nothing else.

While he was playing at Harrison Field, a Newark playground, on Friday, a strange man offered him the pup. "It's a good, healthy dog," asked Sam. "Sure, all he's got is fleas," replied the man.

Singers In Discord

Luella Melius, soprano, has applied for an injunction to block the proposed operatic concert tour of Ganna Walska, now the bride of Harold F. McCormick. The action is based on an alleged violation of agreement by Jules Dalber, operatic manager.

and they, in turn, notified the Hollender family. An older sister is now on her way to take her brother back to domestic life in Newark. Sam's studies of the world will be restricted for a while to Grade Four-B of the Alexander Avenue School, Newark.
